

You Needed Me

(Written by Randy Goodrum, recorded by Anne Murray, 1978.)

(A)(Bm7)(A)(E7)

I cried a (A)tear, you wiped it (Bm7)dry.
I was con(E7)fused: you cleared my (A)mind.
I sold my (C#m)soul: you bought it (Bm7)back for me.
And held me (B)up and gave me (E7)dignity,
Somehow you needed me.

You gave me (A)strength to stand a(Bm7)lone again,
To face the (E7)world out on my (A)own again.
You put me (C#m)high upon a (Bm7)pedestal,
So (A)high that I could (F#m)almost see e(B7)ternity,
You (E7)needed me.
You (A)needed me.

And I (F#m)can't believe it's (C#7)you, I can't be(D)lieve it's true (A)
I (Bm7)needed you (E7)and you were (A)there.
And I'll (F#m)never leave: Why (C#7)should I leave? I'd (D)be a fool. (A)
'Cause I've (B)finally found some(B7)one who really (E7)cares.

You held my (A)hand when it was (Bm7)cold.
When I was (E7)lost, you took me (A)home.
You gave me (C#m)hope when I was (Bm7)at the end.
And turned my (B7)lies back into (E7)truth again:
You even called me friend.

You gave me (A)strength to stand a(Bm7)lone again,
To face the (E7)world out on my (A)own again.
You put me (C#m)high upon a (Bm7)pedestal,
So (A)high that I could (F#m)almost see e(B7)ternity,
You (E7)needed me.

You (A)needed me. (F#m)

You (Bm)needed me. (E7)

You (A)needed me. (F#m) (repeat until fade)
